Medicine for water

ZeoPad, the universal water sorbent purifier, is the gateway to your health, improving the properties of H₂O after boiling:

- water hardness softened
- composition enriched
- calcium and magnesium levels reduced
- acid-alkaline (pH) balance improved
- heavy metals reduced
- limescale prevented

ZeoPad feels like magic, but there's a science to it. Lab test results have proved that ZeoPad does work, which makes this product unique.

Here's how it works:

ZeoPad is nature's filter made with zeolite (clinoptilolite being the active component). It harnesses the filter-like pore structure already there in the microporous mineral.

When boiling water starts the purification job, ZeoPad finishes it: absorbing unwanted salts, preventing deposit buildup, reducing hard metals, and ultimately restoring water to an enriched state.

The pH levels of your bodily fluids are stabilized by ZeoPad.

Simply boiling the water with ZeoPad enhances water's chemical and biological properties. You'll get water that will be your key to a healthy lifestyle.
